Experiential learning beyond the classroom is an essential component of holistic education, particularly in commerce studies where understanding real-world economic activities enriches theoretical knowledge. In this context, the Department of Commerce proposes a one-day educational field trip for SYBCOM students to Dr. Malik's Farm, a renowned integrated farming unit located in Hasapur, Pedne, Goa. Dr. Malik's Farm represents a successful model of sustainable agriculture, agri-preneurship, and rural enterprise. It showcases how modern farming techniques, diversified agricultural practices, and business acumen can converge to create a viable and profitable venture. The farm is known for its innovative approach to organic farming, horticulture, aquaculture, and value-added agricultural products, making it an ideal site for commerce students to observe firsthand the application of business principles in the agricultural sector. This field trip aligns with the SYBCOM curriculum, particularly in subjects such as Entrepreneurship, Environmental Studies, Rural Development, and Business
