Subject: Request for Permission for a Study Visit to the Porvorim Post Office for Students of B.Com. (Business Management)

Respected Sir,

I request you for permission to conduct an educational study visit to the Post Office / Delivery Centre in Porvorim, Goa, for a batch of 30 students pursuing their Third Year Bachelor of Commerce (Business Management) degree.

As part of their academic curriculum for the course titled Supply Chain and Logistic Management (VET) (Course Code: CBM-323), the students are required to gain practical exposure to the operational aspects of modern logistics, distribution networks, and packaging management. Specifically, this visit aligns with Unit: Operational understanding of supply chain and logistics management (Practical).

The primary objectives of this observational visit are to enable the students to:

- Observe Distribution & Handling: Understand how postal articles/parcels are sorted, routed, handled, and dispatched through the postal network.
- Examine Warehousing & Storage: Gain insights into localized storage, inventory flow, and safety/security protocols in postal operations.

We would be extremely grateful if you could grant permission for this study visit on Tuesday, 08th September 2026 at 12.00 noon to your office. A faculty coordinator will accompany the group of 30 students throughout the duration of the visit to ensure proper discipline and adherence to all guidelines. Thank you for your time and support in encouraging practical learning for our students. We look forward to your favourable response.

Thanking you,
Yours sincerely,

A brief write-up about your Event (in about 300 words) : B.Com. Students of Vidya Prabodhini College Gain Practical Insights into Logistics and Postal Operations at Porvorim Post Office PORVORIM: With a view to bridging academic theory with real-world industrial practices, twenty-seven students of the Third Year

Bachelor of Commerce (Business Management) program from Vidya Prabodhini College of Commerce, Education, Computer and Management, Alto-Porvorim, successfully completed a study visit to the Porvorim Post Office and RMS Delivery Centre on Tuesday, 08th September 2026. Organized under the vocational curriculum course Supply Chain and Logistic Management (VET) (Course Code: CBM-323), the primary focus of the visit was to fulfil the practical module titled Operational understanding of supply chain and logistics management. The session provided students with exposure to large-scale distribution operations, localized warehousing, inventory movement, and parcel management systems. During the interactive session, the resource person, Shri Kalidas Priolkar, Sub Record Officer, RMS 'BM' Division, Panaji at Alto-Porvorim, explained the complete operational workflow of the postal and parcel network. He demonstrated how postal articles, speed posts, and commercial parcels are received, sorted across pin-code clusters, routed, and safely dispatched to ensure efficient transit. Shri Priolkar also addressed key aspects of physical package handling, dispatch protocols, localized storage practices, and security measures essential for cargo safety. Broadening the scope of the educational session beyond conventional logistics, Shri Priolkar highlighted the diversification of modern postal services. He delivered an informative talk on the evolving financial functions managed by India Post, elaborating on the core mechanics of Postal Life Insurance (PLI), Rural Postal Life Insurance (RPLI), and India Post Payments Bank (IPPB) solutions, illustrating how India Post leverages its vast physical footprint to drive financial inclusion and modern micro-banking. The field visit was coordinated and supervised by Shri. Sunny Pandhre, Faculty Coordinator, who accompanied the student delegation to oversee operational discipline and facilitate learning interactions between the students and officials. Prof. Bhushan V. Bhave, Principal and Dr. Arun R. Marathe, Head of Department, Commerce, placed on record their sincere appreciation to the postal authorities and staff of the RMS 'BM' Division for extending their support towards experiential learning.
