Report

A counselling lecture series was conducted for the B. Com department on the 11th, 12th, 13th and the 16th of April 2022. The topic chosen for the lecture series was Understanding Control to set realistic goals which was designed and executed by the resource person Ms. Shrishti S. Tamankar, the college counsellor.

The objectives of the lecture series were as follows:

- To help the students identify their short term and long-term priorities/goals followed by students being asked to tell one goal that they have for themselves in both the categories.
- Students were briefed about the circle of control, the circle of influence and the circle of concern. Further motivating the students to identify the factors/situations that are in their direct control, indirect control and out of their control.
- The students were made to come up with their own examples by applying this knowledge in an activity where they were made to draw the circles, name them and write these examples in each circle. More examples were given to the students too.
- This information was further applied to the priorities they had come up with initially in the session. Thus, helping them gain awareness of how they can go about setting realistic & achievable goals for themselves.
- A short reflection was done on control in relationship.

The program was attended by 251 students in total.

The program was organized by Dr. Ujvala Hanjunker, HOD, Commerce.

A workshop was conducted for the B.A. B.Ed department on the 04th, 06th, 9th and 24th of May 2022. The topic chosen for the workshop was Self-Compassion which was designed and executed by the resource person Ms. Shrishti S. Tamankar, the college counsellor.

The objectives of the lecture series were as follows:

- The students were explained the meaning of compassion and self-compassion with examples.
- The students agreed that there was something that they do not like about themselves.
- The aim of the workshop was to help students self-forgive and accept that there will be situations in their life that will make them feel 'not being good enough'
- Students were made to identify their emotions related to a negative incident they recently experienced using the wheel of feelings.
- The students were made to imagine a friend who understands the limitations of being a human being and accepts them with all their flaws. They were then made to infuse the emotions of acceptance, kindness and care they imagined through their friend to remind them to be kind to themselves in bad times.

Approximately a total of 380 students attended the workshop.
