Mahatmaji was real leader of men and he led the people. He never played to the gallery or cared to secure cheers from the crowd. Indeed more than at any time, today, there is an urgent need to understand the message of Bapu. He believed in work and according to him, life should be one, of ceaseless activity. He never believed in the maxim that 'ends justify the means.' If only he lived for another quarter of a century he would have established international peace based upon his philosophy of life. Because once he said, "No nation belongs to itself, every nation belongs to the world. I want my country to be free so that it might die to serve the cause of humanity."

Mahatmaji was real leader of men and he led the people. He never played to the gallery or cared to secure cheers from the crowd. Indeed more than at any time, today, there is an urgent need to understand the message of Bapu. He believed in work and according to him, life should be one, of ceaseless activity. He never believed in the maxim that 'ends justify the means.' If only he lived for another quarter of a century he would have established international peace based upon his philosophy of life. Because once he said, "No nation belongs to itself, every nation belongs to the world. I want my country to be free so that it might die to serve the cause of humanity."
